Holly Ransom

Holly Ransom is a global strategist with an unrelenting work ethic, passion for ambitious ideas and a love of problem solving. She has a reputation for developing innovative solutions to complex multi-stakeholder problems for corporations, governments and non-profit organisations.

In 2014, the Australian Prime Minister appointed Holly to chair the G20 Youth Summit, resulting in the first summit to secure its policy demands from G20 leaders. Holly was also asked to co-author the strategy paper on youth entrepreneurship and unemployment for the United Nation's Sustainable Development Goal agenda.

Her corporate career has involved: working as Chief of Staff to NAB Wealth Chief Executive Andrew Hagger and for Rio Tinto CEO Sam Walsh; leading key organisational strategy and business improvement initiatives; and integrated corporate affairs projects. Holly's company, HRE Global, has worked with the likes of INPEX, CBH, Conoco Phillips, KPMG, as well as local, state and federal government departments around the world.

Holly holds a Law degree and BA (Economics). In 2012, at just 22, she was the youngest person to be named in Australia's '100 Most Influential Women', and also became the world's youngest-ever Rotary President. Her work with Rotary has played a key role in the global efforts to lift youth participation in the organisation, more than doubling engagement in the last five years.

An accomplished global keynote speaker, Holly has presented across six continents, including delivering a Peace Charter to the Dalai Lama and addressing the G20's Central Bank Governors and Finance Minister. She is also a popular blogger, contributor to a number of leading publications and a regular radio and TV guest. She has featured on ABC's Q&A, Channel 7 News and Channel 10's The Project, and is renowned for her commentary on intergenerational economic and social challenges.
