

POSITION DESCRIPTION

TEACHER OF ART & PRODUCT DESIGN & TECHNOLOGY

The Ridgeway Campus

The Role

An exciting opportunity has become available for a full time replacement teacher of Art and Product Design & Technology. This position will commence in August 2018 (Term 3) until December 2018.

The ideal applicant will be an exemplary teacher with a passion for Arts and Design, and have a proven ability in guiding students safely around the use of all equipment. Applicants must have a genuine love of learning and be able to demonstrate a commitment to student centred learning, collaborative practice, pastoral care, co-curricular responsibility and the philosophy and values of Ivanhoe Grammar School.

Secondary Academic Staff at The Ridgeway Campus are responsible to the Deputy Principal/Head of Campus to ensure the effective delivery of all academic programs. The successful candidate must have the capacity to work independently and as a member of one or more faculty and pastoral teams.

Academic Staff at Ivanhoe Grammar School will have or be able to demonstrate:

- A high standard of teaching practice based upon an understanding of varied teaching and learning approaches.
- A sound understanding of the principles of Middle and Senior Schooling.
- An ability to contribute to an effective professional team with a shared vision for the schooling of early adolescents and young adults.
- An interest in curriculum that is holistic, challenging, integrative and exploratory.
- An understanding of the ways assessment and evaluation may promote learning.
- An appreciation of the importance of feedback on student assessment.
- A good understanding of the place and use of computers within the classroom and as a tool for learning.
- A capacity to develop on line learning materials.
- An ability to differentiate the curriculum to cater for different learning abilities.
- The ability to create learning environments where individuals feel secure and valued while challenged to define and pursue their own level of excellence.
- An understanding of the preferred learning styles of boys and girls responding to their needs with appropriate teaching strategies.
- Positive support for the fulfilment of the Ridgeway Campus Vision for all students.
- An ability to communicate openly and honestly.
- An ability to foster good relations with the parent community.
- Professional standards as described in the Victorian Institute of Teaching "Professional Standards for Teachers".

Specific Duties

- Liaise closely with and respond to directions or suggestions initiated by the Curriculum Leader and/or Head of Learning Area.
- Work collaboratively to assist with the development and sharing of teaching materials.
- Provide student reports as required.
- Attend Student/Parent/Teacher Interviews as scheduled.
- Participate in the School's Professional Development Activities.
- Other duties as may be specified by the Deputy Principal/Head of Campus.
- An ability to foster a love and appreciation of Art & Design and Product Design.
- Willingness to contribute to the workshop environment, including maintenance, preparation and safety.

All members of staff at the School are expected to be competent in the use of technology in the classroom, active in the pastoral management of students, supportive of the School's Christian ethos and able to contribute to the sporting and wider co-curricular program.
